

TRI-P TERRA

DESIGN DIESEL /2009

Tri-p is a nomadic, quick-change object, an idea of contemporary mobility that characterises the most varied spaces, in every moment and anywhere in the world. It opens and is dressed with a soft diffuser in elastic fabric on a rigid metal support, it closes and can be carried anywhere, in its special case: into another room or into another home. Tri-p has a warm, diffused light, perfect for relaxation or reading. Its transportable nature and versatility have been designed for those who are always in movement, but want to take a friendly object with them, one that is attractive and personal. The touch of 'dressing' the metallic support with a fabric diffuser is an irresistible reference to the world of fashion and shopping. Made of fabric and anodised metal, the lampshade is elastic knit, which can easily be fitted or removed, to adapt to the angle of the base and to the closure movement. The warm light is diffused with varying intensity, according to the greater or lesser tension of the fabric.
