

PIPE TAVOLO

DESIGN DIESEL /2011

Luminous totems inspired by industrial piping - hence the name - clad with casual-chic fabrics: a design idea that speaks the language of fashion according to Diesel. Pipe is a family of floor and table lamps, to be used stand-alone or in multiple compositions, to illuminate, characterise and also define a space, owing to the dimensions and to the warm diffused light across the entire surface. The irregular weft, turns into a luminous décor, adding further emotion to the fabric and revolutionising the traditional lampshade lamp. Pipe is ideal for both domestic and contract spaces. Thanks to its various dimensions the family offers great versatility, also in combinations of table and floor versions. It is particularly suitable for large spaces, thanks to its important dimensions, in which one wants to illuminate an area or as a luminous screen between different areas where a normal floor lamp would disappear. Available in floor, reading and table version, made of unrefined linen, disposable in white or grey.
