OSSO CHAIR hermanmiller.com/mattiazzi

- The Osso chair is smooth and sculpted, like a bone (“osso” in Italian). The quality of the wood makes the object.
- The chair is made through a combination of craftsmanship and precise machining with equipment powered by solar energy. No chemicals are used to treat the wood.
- The designers have said their intention was “to let the sensuality of the wood material—from oak to maple to ash—express itself.”
